RT London launches new lounge solution, Lotus

Grand Rapids, Mich. – RT London is excited to debut a new lounge solution, Lotus, this year at NeoCon.

Lotus responds to changes in office environments trending toward more open spaces, collaborative areas and the unconventional, which is influencing how universities are thinking about their campuses today. Playful in design, comfortable in sit – Lotus inspires a relaxed environment with soft, movable pieces.

The collection includes a chair, chair and a half, and an ottoman that can stand alone or be grouped together. The chairs feature a handle to allow users to quickly rearrange pieces to create flexible spaces, whether it's for work, play or to unwind in a private or social setting.

RT London is a major player in the Residence Hall furniture market. With over 400 college and university customers, RT London is designing and building products for the future. Expanding outside their core market, RT London is working with architects and designers to fulfill the needs of diverse commercial environments nationwide.

Lotus will make its first appearance at NeoCon 2018 floor 7, booth #8030 in June 2018 and will be available for purchase September 2018.

About RT London

Grand Rapids, Mich.-based RT London was established in 1989 to answer the local need for durable and quality student housing furniture. Located in the furniture capital of the world, RT London quickly expanded and now manufactures and provides student furniture for higher education institutions nationwide. The company offers high-quality products to other market sectors beyond student housing, including GSA, human services, hospitality and senior living.

RT London has provided furniture to more than 400 public and private colleges and universities, as well as numerous independent housing projects. With manufacturing facilities in Grand Rapids and Lacey, Wash., RT London proudly manufactures all of its products in the United States. The company offers a 25-year warranty on most products, custom capabilities, in-house interior design services, installation, storage and exceptional customer service.
